

Associate Legislative Director, Transportation

The National Association of Counties (NACo) is seeking a highly motivated intergovernmental relations professional to manage its transportation and infrastructure policy development and advocacy portfolio. The position requires knowledge and understanding of federal transportation and infrastructure policies affecting local governments and the ability to promote NACo's transportation and infrastructure policy positions by developing and maintaining effective relationships with federal government officials, Members of Congress and their staffs and other executives and advocates working for public interest organizations.

The successful candidate will be a resilient team player, able to write and speak to specialist and general audiences alike and able to manage multiple legislative, regulatory and association management projects at a time.

The National Association of Counties (NACo) is the only national organization that represents county governments in the United States. Founded in 1935, NACo provides essential services to the nation's 3,069 counties. NACo advances issues with a unified voice before the federal government, improves the public's understanding of county government, assists counties in finding and sharing innovative solutions through education and research, and provides value-added services to save counties and taxpayers money.

NACo offers a competitive benefits package and a generous retirement plan. For more information about NACo, please visit www.naco.org.
