Lake County Opioid Initiative

---

The Lake County Opioid Initiative (LCOI) was founded in December 2012. Lake County State's Attorney Michael G. Nerheim, Chief George Filenko of the Round Lake Park Police Department, Chelsea Laliberte, Executive Director of Live4Lali, and Bruce Johnson, Chief Executive Officer of NICASA Behavioral Health Services came together to alleviate a growing opioid epidemic that has been affecting the Lake County area for far too long.

The Lake County Opioid Initiative is a 501(c) 3 non-for-profit organization divided into six committees. The committees consist of the communications / data collections / assessment and evaluation, first responders, primary prevention / education and awareness, treatment /recovery / family services and harm reduction, policy / legislative and legal issues, and medical professionals. The taskforce is comprised of a broad range of social service agencies that specialize in the opioid and heroin issue, including governmental agencies, law enforcement agencies, politicians, hospitals, faith based organizations, school districts, private businesses, townships, villages, community members and community leaders. There are over two-hundred individual members and over ninety agencies are being represented on LCOI's task force.

Lake County Opioid Initiative's Mission and Vision Statement

To develop, implement, evaluate and sustain a multi-strategy county-wide effort to prevent opioid abuse, addiction, overdose, and death.

Vision Statement: Lake County will be the premier leader and example that effectively addresses all facets of the opioid epidemic to improve the health and safety of our communities.

Participant Information

June 1, 2016 – June 30, 2018

426 A WAY OUT CLIENTS ACCESSED TREATMENT

*Thirtyseven participants entered police stations but after initial screening, declined treatment services offered. These individuals are not represented in the data below.

Pre-arrest Diversion

---

- Pre Arrest Diversion – the concept of diverting eligible individuals away from criminal justice systems and into behavioral health interventions.
  - Use these models with substance use and / or mental health.
  - Reduces crime and recidivism.
    - Half of violent crime offenders and theft of property offenders say they committed crimes while under the influence.
  - Improves community / law enforcement relations.
  - Reduces burden on the justice system.
    - About 80,000 Americans are incarcerated for Opioid related crimes alone.
  - Restores lives / families
  - Reduces costs
    - Every dollar spent on treatment, saves up to three dollars in crime reduction.
